

POTENTIAL RELOCATIONS

Business and Residential

Are the numbers and locations shown here tonight final? No.

- The freeway design is still changing—this is normal
- Design will continue to be refined to improve traffic operations, avoid unnecessary costs, and reduce various potential impacts where possible
- If your home or business appears to be affected or is in close proximity to the project as shown tonight, we urge you to stay involved with the project
- Typically, the reported number of homes and businesses goes down as the study progresses, the locations affected may change as well. We start by looking at worse-case scenarios.
